EX-GOV. M. MATHEWS DEAD. elamation Issued by Gov. Jacks

Yesterday morning word was received at he State House, that ex-Governor Henry dason Mathews had died at his home in ewisburg, shortly after midnight Monday night. The news was not unexpected, the Stalnaker the night before having been of ach a nature as to leave, no hope for Go rnor Mathews' recovery, The Secretary ernor Mathews' recovery, The Secretary lett for Lewisburg Moxday night.

Arsoon as word was received of the death, Governor Jackson who is in Parkerburg was communicated with by wire. Vesterday afternoon the following proclamation was telegraphed with instructions to post if at the entrances to the State House and also enter ligon the Journal:

——PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, April 20, 1884 Ex-Governor Henry Mason Mathews died

Magistrate of this State, retiring from colles on the 4th day of March, 1881.

Governor Mathews discharged the duties of his high cline faithfully and to the satisfaction of our people. At the expiration of his term, being in the prime of hich, he returned to his houn, enterior actively into the practice of his profession with the promise of a long life of metallizer. By his sudden death the State has lost an eminent citizen and a respected public servant.

As a mark of esteem for his memory, it is ordered that the flags be displayed at halimatover the State House until after the funeral, and that the executive citizes of the State House be closed on the day of the funeral, and that they be drapped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

By the Governor, the farmers from out the pike attending market this morning.

By the Governor,
RANDOLPH STALNAKES, JE.,

The flags had aiready been placed at helf-mast and the work of draping the State House both inside and out was com-useded, under the direction of Major Scroggins and Jantor Voltz, Major W. Scroggins and Japtor Voltz. Mejor W. W. Jackson, the Governor's private secretary, telegraphed that he would be here this morning to assist in the work. This is the second time within eix months that the state House has been ordered placed in mourning for one of the State's ze-chief excutives. The first time was November '9-h, when ex-Governor Stevenson, of Parkeraburg, passed away. His death was the first one among the Governors of this State. There was a general feeling of sorrow among gall the State House officials over the news of the death, and this feeling extended nil over the city smong those who had possessed the friendship of Governor Mathews. His genial, courteous manner made him a favorite.

THE PLEURO-PNEUMONIA!

That is Afflicting Washington County Cattle as Supposed.

Fashington, Pa., Reporter.
On Monday, the 28th inst., the State Veter nary Surgeon. Dr. F. Dr. Bridge was sent to this county by Governor Pattison, at the request of the Washingto County Breeders' Association, through its President, Mr. Julius Ls Moyne. The doc-tor was taken by Messrs. Le Moyne and Wil-son to Mr. Vance's and was accompanied by Dr. Harry McKanna. After a searching in-vastigation of all the circumstances and contions surrounding the infected herd, as ell as a close examination of the animals, well as a close examination of the animals. Dr. Bridge pronounced the disease a catarath at the proper which had, in the case of the thinks these could have been saved had the proper knowledge of their aliments been known. He emphatically stated that there was no symptom of pleure-pneumonia and that the cattle that are sick are over the worst and will recover. Dr. Bridge forther states that he has never seen a case of contagious pleure-pneumonia west of the Allers plenies, and that when have asked to come here to investigate a case of the allers in his 10th year. He was one of the brighest penily alarmed. The above statement knocks the wind out of the articla in the Pittsburgh Leader of a few days ago.
